Turn up the fun factor as hot as you can handle, because BayFest is back this Fourth of July weekend. Join the Marine Corps and Windward Oahu for McKenna Motors BayFest 2003.

Last year, more than 30,000 visitors came to MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay, and rocked out to live performances, got crazy with games and contests, went wild in the water and filled their summer with festivity. This year, BayFest has all that and more.

Chart toppers Everclear, rock and roll lover Joan Jett, as well as country sensation Neal McCoy will be live on stage, along with numerous other rhythmic rockers throughout the weekend.

The Island Lifestyle Expo, with its massive trade show displays, games, contests, giveaways and vendors, will once again be held inside a Marine Corps aviation hangar. Companies such as Coca-Cola, Papa John's Pizza, USAA, Marc Resorts and many more will be represented.

You could go home with fantastic prize giveaways

Left and Above — Fireworks and other recreational activities such as boat rides, numerous contests and sporting events, to name a few, help to make BayFest a hit every year on Windward Oahu.

Fernandez Events will offer plenty of opportunities for children and adults to let it all hang out during BayFest, with rides such as the mega slide (above) and the famous 120-person Giant Wheel, which casts its light across Kaneohe Bay, offering spectacular views of the Windward coast.

including a neighbor Island trip, a Waikiki weekend getaway or the McKenna Motors hummer valued at more than $80,000. Heroes, helicopters and howitzers will also be abundant as the Windward side bursts with red, white and blue in a show of patriotism, for the purpose of BayFest is to pay homage to military members who continue to sacrifice themselves for America’s freedom and to convey appreciation to the Oahu community. There couldn’t be a better time to celebrate, as hundreds of service members are returning from overseas and the war.

BayFest is always filled with festive events that relate to all interests. For the fitness-minded, enjoy the Boxing Challenge, Strongman Competition, Paddleboard, “build-your-own boat” Bathtub Regatta races, Striker Contest, or the favorite BodySearch Contest. And no BayFest is complete without Fernandez Events Carnival rides for everyone, plus “military might.” Come see and touch the instruments that keep our country safe. Handle weaponry and climb aboard equipment including planes, helicopters, tanks, Amphibious Assault Vehicles and artillery. Chat with the greatest weaponry of the Corps and Navy — the Marines and Sailors themselves. For patrons who relish relaxation, enjoy Coconut Island boat rides, the Dunk Tank, the Exotic Car Show, the McKenna Motors New Car Show or the world-famous Grucci Brothers Fireworks displays on July 4, 5 and 6. Events are simply too numerous to list. Open to the public, BayFest is an annual event organized by Marine Corps Community Services. Proceeds from this event enhance the quality of life for the Ka’elepulu Elementary rewards 1st Radio Bn.

Lance Cpl. Monroe F. Seigle
Combat Correspondent

Despite demanding training missions and a deployment in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, Marines from 1st Radio Bn., aboard MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay, have provided considerable support to Ka’elepulu Elementary School in the past year.

Many students grew fond of the kind

Marines from Radio Bn., as they assisted the children in several school projects, most recently the end-of-the-year festivities. Marines managed events and enjoyed the field days as much as the kids.

Back in February, though, it was a sad day when the caring Marines told the children good-bye as they deployed to the Middle East to defend their country. The children waited anxiously for their leathernecks to return and were overjoyed to learn they since had and would be assisting them again in future school projects.

“The Marines from Radio Battalion established a link between themselves and the children in such a positive way,” said Glenn Nakamoto, principal of Ka’elepulu Elementary School. “They have always been our school’s partner, and even though they were deployed to the Middle East to protect our freedom, the children were sad to see them go.” To show their appreciation for all the efforts their devil dogs have shown, the students of Ka’elepulu dedicated their 2002 - ‘03 school yearbook to the Marines and also assembled a collage of photos taken during events in which the Marines supported.

First Radio Bn. Marines made it clear they would be just as supportive in succeeding years.

“The Marines continue to show interest in supporting our school,” said Nakamoto. “They were motivated and eager to help us in any way they could, all the way from the commanding officer down to the privates,” he explained.

“The children will always remember them and look forward to seeing them in the next school year.”

Do you really need a new car?

NAPS
Featurettes

Although you may want to get rid of your present vehicle in favor of a new car, taking better care of your current set of wheels may make much more sense in the long run — helping you achieve a goal of financial freedom.

“Budgeting for and doing preventative maintenance on your car is one of the best ways to cut your costs and keep your car,” said Terry Mulcahy, vice president of investments for R.W. Baird.

The Car Care Council estimates that more than $60 billion in vehicle maintenance and repair is not performed every year, evidence that there is considerably more that consumers should be doing to protect their investments.

“Whether it’s an oil change, replacing brakes or new belts and hoses, that periodic repair bill is a drop in the bucket compared to monthly payments on a new car,” said Rich White, executive director of the Car Care Council.

“The bottom line is that a prop-

Automotive Answers erly maintained vehicle is safe, more dependable, more fuel efficient, less polluting and more valuable.

The smartest way to get a solid return on your investment is to keep your car through what is called the ‘Cinderella Era,’ that period of time after the payoff when your car is still in great shape and needs only modest repairs.”

The Car Care Council is the source of information for the “Be Car Care Aware” consumer education campaign, which provides timely and accurate information about the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair to consumers.
